ANNUAL R.E. WEEK FOR ALL STUDENTS

By CORALITA CARLSON

Religious period came quickly to a close, but not before many Pacific students had chance to hear the inspiring Dr. Otwell and think seriously about finding an answer to the question "Religion So What?"

Dr. Otwell centered most of his thoughts on the idea that religion should cease to be a vague ideal and should become a reality in a person's everyday life.

Although Pacific is a Methodist college, students of many faiths attend school here; and all of them had a chance to share in this program of gathering a new insight into their particular religion. In addition to the non-sectarian services held in the chapel, conservatory and Anderson Y, special meetings were held for students of the Episcopalian, Catholic and Christian Science faith.

Personal touches were added to Religious Emphasis Period when Dr. Otwell talked with small groups such as the senate, Y clubs and informal discussion groups held during meals in the Anderson Y, and when each living group gathered to discuss the problems of their personal faith with one of the outside discussion leaders.

Religious Emphasis Period is fast becoming a tradition at Pacific. It has been held in several past years and with the PSA going into joint sponsorship with the CRA, Religious Emphasis Period has been assured of a place in the life at COP.

Dr. Hunt Speaker At High School Dedication

Rockwell Dennis Hunt, octogenarian director of the California History Foundation here at College of the Pacific, will give the dedication address for the new San Jose High School on Sunday evening, November 2.

Fifty years ago, in the fall of 1902, Dr. Hunt became principal of San Jose High School after having served as professor of history at the old University of the Pacific, then located in San Jose. Dr. Hunt later went to the University of Southern California where he had a forty-year career. Twenty-five of these years he was first dean of the USC graduate school.

After his retirement at USC he returned to Pacific to organize its California History Foundation. Author of 15 published volumes in the field, Dr. Hunt is one of the top authorities on our state's history. Current development projects of the College of the Pacific include a plan to endow a permanent Rockwell Dennis Hunt Chair in California History. About $9,000 has already been subscribed.

Last Friday night Dr. Hunt spoke at Murphys. He delivered the charter night address for the newly organized local historical society there.

Recently, Dr. Hunt spoke in Fresno for a California district meeting of the National Association of Educational Buyers. He addressed the business groups on "California in Perspective."

Bill Sibley, as the Bishop turned sleuth, shows his surprised but trusting sister, Bobbie Andress, "the loot." A review of the play will be found on page two.

Senate Recommends 4 A.M. Womens Hours

By unanimous vote of the Senate Monday night, a request was made to the AWS council to extend the hours for women students until 4 a.m. on weekends.

The meeting was packed with lobbyists who doffed their club jackets and sent streamers and confetti flying through the air when the proposed plan was passed.

In an argument for the resolution Pete Schneider, senior class representative, quoted in part from Shakespeare:

"Let me not to the marriage of true minds admit impediments

Love is not love which alters when it alteration finds.

Or bends with the remover to remove.

Oh, no, it is an ever fixed mark upon which we must turn our bark . . .

If this be false and upon me proved, I have never writ

Nor no man ever loved."

The PSA secretary is sending a copy of the recommendation to the AWS council and Pete Schneider has been appointed to represent the Senate with a personal request to the group mentioned above.

CAMPUS BLOOD DRIVE BEGINS 1 P.M. DONOR GOAL SET FOR 300 PINTS

The campus wide blood drive is now in progress. This afternoon, students who have pledged blood for Korea will keep their appointments in the gym with the doctors and nurses of the Red Cross Mobile Unit, which has come to the campus for the drive.

Students between the ages of 18 to 21 are asked to bring with them permission forms signed by their parents. Students under 18 may not give blood. Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health.

Names of pledges have been listed on an honor roll on the bulletin board near the PSA office. Anyone who wants to give blood but who has not been given an appointment should go to the gym some time between the hours of one to six today and make arrangements for a donation.

According to drive chairman Jack Mansfield, the goal for the one-day drive has been set at 300 pints of blood. Last year's drive, headed by Dick Batten, netted 264 pints.

Students of Pacific will be given an opportunity today to "Have a Blood Relation in Korea." Blood is needed by the fighting men in Korea and we can do our part at home in providing this necessity by taking a few minutes this afternoon to donate a pint of blood.

The blood campaign fever has hit several other California college and university campuses. According to the USF publication, the San Francisco Foghorn, students of the University of San Francisco set a new campus record of 275 pints of blood in their semi-annual blood drive early this month.

The first campus blood drive of the semester was held at the University of California in September. Students at Southern California have set a goal of 880 pints for their drive. Actual donation on that campus will take place in November.

To give or not to give is up to you. Keep in mind the goal of 300 pints and do your part to reach that goal.

Adv. Grammar Test Falls On November 6

The English Requirement for all Secondary Credentials must be met either by taking course 116 in the English Department, entitled Advanced Grammar, or by taking a special examination.

The test is given once each semester. The dates for 1952-53 are as follows: Fall Semester 1952, November 6, at 2:00 p.m. Room 204 Administration. Spring Semester 1953, March 12, at 2:00 p.m. Room 204 Administration.

The Advanced Grammar course carries two units of credit. The examination carries no credit, although it fulfills the requirement. If at all possible, all credential candidates are urged to take the course in order to benefit by the discussion and the class exercises.

If Secondary Credential candidates cannot take the course, it is necessary to take the examination. The examination covers grammar, punctuation, spelling, vocabulary and reading comprehension. It is advised that all those taking the test study before the test is given.

Books for study may be obtained in the college library. The test is objective and bears no relation to any particular text book.

Fundamental rules and concepts of grammar, punctuation, and spelling should be studied. Further information may be obtained by consulting Mr. Clair C. Olson, Chairman, English Department, Room 202b Administration bldg.

Anderson-Massey and Power To Perform In "John Brown's Body"

A dramatic reading of Steven Vincent Benet's poem "John Brown's Body" will be given by Judith Anderson, Raymond Massey and Tyrone Power on November 7 at the Stockton High auditorium.

Charles Laughton has adapted and directed the reading and it is done in a style similar to that of "Don Juan In Hell" which was produced in Stockton in 1950.

In addition to the featured actors there will be a supporting cast of twenty; music and choral effects will be supplied under Walter Schumann's direction.

Tickets may be obtained at the box office of the Fuhrmann's Music Company and they range in price from $1.22 to $4.82.

Civil Service Gives Student Aid Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Student Aid positions.

The Student Aid positions include those in engineering, chemistry, physics, mathematics, and metallurgy. The applicants must be in their Sophomore or Junior year in college.

Appointees to these Federal positions receive permanent jobs, employment for next summer, and opportunities to return to finish their schooling. Promotions are scheduled for those who succeed in their work.

Students in engineering and physical sciences who file application cards by November 13 will be able to take the first written test scheduled.

Full information and application cards may be secured at the placement office, Room 105 Ad. Building.

Scholarships Granted To Entering Engineers

The revival of the COP engineering department has been boosted along with the establishment of four $250 scholarships for students entering Pacific's department of civil engineering.

The donation was made by Mr. Ted Baun, Fresno contractor and a member of the COP board of trustees. An engineering graduate of 1929, Baun was also a COP football star.

Discontinued during World War II, the engineering department has been reestablished under the guidance of Dr. Felix A. Wallace. It is housed now in one of the corrugated metal buildings to the north of the radio quonset.

Under Dr. Wallace's direction, a civil engineering curriculum, geared to the liberal arts program, but leading to the bachelor of science degree, has been established at Pacific.

Electrical and material testing laboratories have been equipped; a special item being a 200,000 pound Universal testing machine.

The department boasts four instructors other than Dr. Wallace. They are: Charles W. Gulick, Gordon L. Harrison, Robert M. Snyder, and John Vondracek. The group includes specialists in structures, hydraulics and water supply, sewage and sanitation, and electrical and mechanical engineering.

Qualified students entering engineering today are assured of a real future in the field, since the state and nation face an acute shortage of professionally qualified engineers. Dr. Wallace states that this is especially true of civil engineers. Every COP engineering graduate has been successfully placed in the field, according to the college records.

Archania All-Campus "Hay-Hop" Next Friday

Levis and calico dresses will set the mood of the sixth annual Archania campus wide "Hay-Hop", to be held Friday evening, November 7, from 9:30 to 12:30 in the Pacific Gym.

Dancing will be to the music of Jimmy Butler and his five-piece band.

Starting time of the "Hay-Hop" has been set to follow the COP-Santa Clara exchange game rally so that those attending the rally might also be able to attend the dance.

Tickets are fifty cents a person and can be purchased from members of Archania or at the dance.

"Y" Conference Held At Camp Campbell

An intercollegiate conference held last week end at Camp Campbell, the San Jose YMCA camp near Boulder Creek, was attended by 25 COP students. Other colleges and universities represented at the meeting included Stanford, San Jose State, and California.

The conference which is held in the fall and spring of each year provides for an intercollegiate exchange of ideas and fellowship. Each time, the "Y" sponsored event deals with a particular topic. The theme for the recent conference was "How Do We Work for Peace in a World of Conflict?"

more than the eye

Winning Honorable Mention at Haggin Gallery Saturday evening was an oil painting by Bob Butterbaugh, the only undergraduate Pacific art student work represented in the annual Regional Show of some 180 entries in various media.

One of two oils entered by Butterbaugh, the winning painting was titled "Composition No. XV." In a style characteristic of the American master, Leopold Feininger, the main subject matter was handled simply and sensitively, with a tremendous depth implied through the use of superimposed spatial divisions. The resulting effect, one of considerable subtlety and restraint, somewhat resembled a gauze theatrical curtain.

This freshness of composition, along with the paint quality and the juxtaposition of the colors, was stimulating and interesting.

His was a highly subjective approach, which appeared to incorporate a good deal of personal philosophy, which possibly accounted for its highly emotional flavor, for as Richard Guggenheimer wrote in "Creative Vision in Artist and Audience," "True Vision requires far more than the eye. It takes the whole man. For what we see is no more and no less than what we are."

Also on exhibit is a sculpture by Richard Reynolds, chairman of the Pacific Art Center and president of the Stockton Art League. Titled, "Refuge," the sculpture depicts two small animals huddled for protection, and was executed in gray granite. Because of the small number of entries in this media, awards were not offered. (It might appear that Reynolds himself was therefore as carefully chiseled as his sculpture.)

COP Alums Graduate As Navy Junior Officers

Two graduates of the College of Pacific have just graduated from the Navy's Officers Candidate School in Newport, R.I.

John Witherspoon who received his B.A. in radio in 1951 and Raymond White who received his B.A. degree in History in 1952 were part of a graduating class of 880 men who received the line commissions.

They are now qualified junior officers of the fleet and will do three years of active duty on the line.

Civil Service Announce Jr. Agriculture Exams

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that examinations for Junior Agricultural Assistants may be taken in Stockton.

The beginning salary for these positions is $3,410 a year, and the jobs are located in the Department of the Interior in Washington D.C., and throughout the United States.

Anyone interested may contact the civil-service office in Stockton for further information concerning the positions offered and the date for the test.

on a hopeful note

The Bard to the contrary, the play is often not alone the thing. A case in point is Frederick Jackson's familiar old chestnut, "The Bishop Misbehaves," continuing through tomorrow evening at the Brown House, otherwise known as Pacific Theatre.

For, rather than the play, there were more often some quite creditable performances by the more experienced of the PT players, and one by a newcomer, the young man, who earned the plaudits of Friday evening's audience. And all this is not to pass by without commending Marc Brown's astute direction and Tony Reid's imaginative, and sturdy-looking sets.

As usual, the stage picture and pacing were well thought out, although there was a noticeable lack of fire in what could have been an exciting holdup scene.

Walking away with top honors were Bill Sibley, whose abundant self-control and excellent make-up were only two of many attributes characteristic of his interpretation of the Bishop of Broadminster, and Barbara Andress, whose grand sense of timing meant so much in the meaty role of his faithful spinster sister, who peeps underneath it all, believing as Shaw in his "Don Juan in Hell," that "An Englishman thinks he is being moral when he is really only uncomfortable."

As inevitable as the Dean cracking down on fraternity "tea parties" (it was a ball while it lasted), is the development of promising talent to replace those who have departed for greener pastures. One Ray Fry appears to be the latest candidate for the freshmen squad, bringing good stage presence and a vital quality that would have been most useful in at least two of last season's shows.

Lawrence Berscheid as a roguish young barkeep boasted a delightfully spontaneous quality, and his freshness was well received by the audience. Richard Merrifield still suffers from the distracting voice pattern, though a far cry from its severe intensity in his T. S. Eliot days.

Margaret Kenny and Marshall Breeden might well reconsider their characterizations. Her enthusiastic portrayal of a champagne-drinking matron could have been more convincing were it not for her emoting, and Breeden should realize that even a broken spirited secretary to a bishop might be approached with a shade more gusto.

It is difficult to imagine how Breeden's amateurish looking baldpiece and Rudy Solari's lack of makeup ever got by the master; it is just such incidentals that PT is generally scrupulous about.

There were other players, of course, a sufficient number to warrant a sub-title for the play of "New Faces of '52". And as the season progresses, they too will be molded in the Brown-Reid tradition of fine semi-professional theatre for Pacific.

It is with a hopeful outlook indeed that we look forward to the remainder of the season, and in particular the production of Galsworthy's prolific — and in many ways difficult — "Escape."

S. D. NAVY SINKS BENGALS 25 TO 7 Sailors Too Much For Injury Ridden COP

San Diego pulled the plug out of the drydock in the third quarter last Saturday nite and the water flowed in and the Navy ship sailed away to the tune of 25-7.

The Tigers had the sailors tied in knots throughout the first half, but the swabbies yanked at one end and found that it was only a slip knot, and proceeded to blast three salvos across in the third quarter, and then add one more for good measure at the start of the fourth.

Actually, Pacific was just a raft caught in the wake of a powerful destroyer. San Diego boasted 8 professional ballplayers in addition to their already strong experienced personnel.

WADDELL WADDLES

Big gun for Navy was halfback Erasmus Waddell, averaging 9.2 yards per carry, and who is probably best remembered for his pass interception which turned the game into a mild rout.

The Orange and Black were driving downfield after receiving Navy's kickoff after touchdown, when elusive Erasmus extracted Ottoson's pass from the ether and eked out a 60-yard run to paydirt.

Although not providing the fans with any electrifying runs, ex-Cal half, Jim Monachino, did considerable damage with his consistent ground gaining tactics, pounding out an excellent 5.1 yards per.

All-American prospect, Tom McCormick ground out 5.1 yards per carry also, but had to leave the game quite early due to a head injury.

PACIFIC SCORE

The lone Bengal score came in the fourth quarter via a pass from Skip Ottoson to Ken Buck, who duplicated that now famous Wes Mitchell pass play.

Buck and Gorman performed excellently at the end position, and in an interview with Verl Lillywhite after the game, Verl said that Gorman threw some of the best fakes he had ever come up against and that he was fooled by them every time.

Fred Miller was outstanding in his defensive role, as were Lowell Herbert, Jim Fairchild, and Al Dattola.

IMPROVED TIGERS

The Tigers are now over the hump, and show great promise to finish the season with a good won-lost record. The reserves showed that they can fill in when given the call; so what more can the fans ask?

This writer stated that the Tigers might fold a la last season in this Navy game, and many people thought they were doing just that when San Diego exploded for their three TDs; but it is widely contended that Pacific did not fold; they just yielded to Navy's superstrong pressure. Remember, this is the same team that shoved Rose Bowl bound, USC all over the gridiron, plus 4 more pros added.

SKI SEASON SOON

With the ski season only a month away a call for skiers is going out to all interested slatmen. Already many races and big meets have been scheduled and the Tiger ski team is in need of skiers. Only three members of last year's team are returning and the loss of captain Roger Wickman leaves a big gap to be filled in the ranks. Returning are Mike Franceschini, Bob Spickerman and Barney Nelson.

Anyone interested in going out for the ski team are asked to meet in front of the gym at 4:30, Wednesday, November 5th. A short meeting will be held to explain the operation of the team.

Broncs vs. H.S.

Never let it be said that this valley doesn't offer top football talent, for tomorrow night in the Lodi Grape Bowl Hardin-Simmons takes on Santa Clara, game time being at 8:00.

This game offers the Pacific rooters a preview of a coming attraction in Santa Clara, for they are scheduled to clash the following week. The Broncos from Santa Clara do not possess an impressive record, but it must be remembered that they have played teams of the toughest caliber in Stanford, California, and the Green Wave from Tulane.

Hardin Simmons is best remembered for their game against COP in 1947, which is in the records as the highest tie ball game in collegiate history: the score 35-35.

The Lodi Chamber of Commerce is hoping that Stockton-ites will support this tilt, as they promise equal support of the games played in the Valley Bowl.

A good section of seats have been set aside for students, whose price of admission need only be a S.B. card and six bits, which is well below usual college football ducats.

Player of the Week Jim "Lipper" Fairchild

"Tops on the team" might well be Jim Fairchild's nickname this week, but he really was on the bottom in last week's San Diego Navy game. Yes, he was in on the bottom of almost every tackle as he led his undermanned Tiger teammates in one of their better defensive games of the season.

Except for a brief lapse in the middle of the third quarter, the Tigers played one of their best defensive games of the year. "Lipper" along with his fellow teammates constantly knifed in between the bigger, more experienced San Diego Navy linemen to bring down the ball carriers with little or no gain. Coach Tay Brown, of the Navy team, remarked that Pacific was one of the toughest teams they had met, including the three weeks previous USC game. Coach Brown was high in his praise of the Tiger defensive line and especially Jim Fairchild.

Fairchild, a six foot, 195 pound guard, is in his last year as COP.

TIGERS TAKE ON WEBFOOTS OREGON OUT TO AVENGE LAST YEARS LOSS

By BUD WATKINS

Plagued by injuries and a team that is paper-thin in good players, the Oregon Ducks nevertheless are eagerly awaiting the Tigers from COP, and will try to garner their second win of the season tomorrow.

REVENGE

After suffering a 34-6 humiliation at the hands of Pacific last year, Coach Len Casanova's Webfoots are really out to even things up. However, to do this, the Ducks will have to utilize every ounce of speed and power from their depleted ranks. Casanova only has 22 lettermen to work with, but these 22 are showing that they can play football, as the 7-7 half-time score in the Cal game testifies.

Oregon's two standouts are Tom Novikoff, a 191 pound fullback who can really hit, and George Shaw, one of the finest passing quarterbacks on the Pacific Coast. Shaw will alternate offensively with Hall Dunham who was ranked as the number 18 forward passer in the nation last year. Ted Anderson and Bob Ashworth will open at halfbacks.

CAPABLE ENDS

The Ducks have several fine ends including Monte Brethauer, who was one of the leading pass-catchers in the nation last year, weighs only 172 pounds but can fake and hang onto the oval with the best of them.

The tackles are Len Berrie, 216, and Harold Reeve, 207. Emmet Williams, 197, and Jack Patera are standouts at guard. Dick Stoutt, a 220 pound veteran will start at the center slot.

OFFENSIVE BATTLE

The Oregons will have to go some to stop the Tigers' off-tackle slants and the passing of Roy Ottoson, but Casanova has always been good at getting his teams fired up for the tough ones. If this happens tomorrow, look for one of the standout offensive shows of the year.

After last Saturday's 14-14 tie with the Montana Grizzlies, the Webfoots are bound to be hopping mad and out for a win.

Broadcast time is 1:45 p.m. on Station KXOB.

Phoos Still Tops Archites 3 In a Row

On Monday afternoon, Archites and Rhizomia took to the field. The Rhizites were heavy favorites to dump the Archites but Archites fired up all the steam it had and walked off the field victorious. The only score of the game was made on a pass play from John (Chap-Chap) Chiapelone to Ron Nunn who snagged the pass and crossed the stripe into the end zone.

On Tuesday the Archites took to the field again, this time against the Quonsets. The game went nip and tuck all the way and ended in a scoreless tie. The victors, however, went to Archania 1 who gained more yardage on the allotted four downs succeeding in the game.

Both victories were due to Archania's stalwart defense. The Rhizites completed only three passes in the game and the Quonsets were unable to make a first down. This runs Archania's winning streak to three in a row. This should give the unbeaten Omega Phi's something to think about.

Standings at the end of the first round:

Team	Won	Lost
Omega Phi	6	0
Rhizomia	3	2
Tri Bete	3	2
Archania	4	3

Freshman Footballers Wind Up Season IMPRESSIVE 3-1 RECORD

By VINCE GOMEZ

With Quarterback Bill Jacobs masterminding the attack, the COP Frosh football squad ended their 1952 season with a 41-6 win over the Moffett Field Flyers last Saturday on the Memorial Stadium turf.

3 OUT OF 4

It was the Cub's third victory in four games, previously having beaten the Chico Reserves 37-7, and San Jose State yearlings 18-2, while dropping a tough struggle to the Santa Clara Colts 19-0.

Giving a total combined yardage from land and air of 521 yards, the young Tigers struck for two touchdowns in the first period, one each in the second and third quarter and two final scores in the fourth stanza. Backfield men Tom Perry, Nate Wills, and Lynn Swanson, sparked the Cub's ground attack, while Jacobs completed 10 out of 20 passes for 147 yards and one TD. Bill also scored two 6-pointers while carrying the ball 6 times for 25 yards. Perry the 6 ft. 180 lb. right half from Oakdale Hi, carried the ball 17 times for 205 yards including 2 T.D.s. One of the scores being on 80 yards jaunt around left end in the first period.

PERRY FUTURE STANDOUT

Tom will be a valuable asset to future Tiger varsity teams. The elusive and Speedy Wills was the second leading ground gainer of the day by virtue of 111 yards on 10 carries. Biggest contribution to his total yardage was a 54 yard smash over guard to the one-foot line which set up the third period score.

Swanson, a driving fullback from Turlock Hi, scored 10 points on a T.D. and 4 out of 5 conversions. The fifth extra point was scored by Jacobs on an end run. The two offensive ends, Rodger Lynn and Rodger Post, caught all of Jacob's 10 passes, Lynn catching 7 and Post snagging 3 of them for a touchdown.

EX WOLVERINE SCORES

The Flyers gained a combined total of 345 yards. The Moffett Fielders scored their only T.D. in the second stanza. It was scored by Nels Erstad, an ex Michigan Wolverine who gained most of the Flyers' yardage by virtue of rushing for 85 yards on 16 tries.

The 25 boys on this frosh team should form a good nucleus, for future Bengal pigskin squads and should be commended for their successful season this year.

The Bengals expect to welcome five starting players back to action against the Webfoots, but right end Wes Mitchell (above) and safetyman Jim Powell will be sidelined with leg injuries. Mitchell is Pacific's top pass receiver.

COP OPPONENTS IN REVIEW

Now that Pacific's football season is half way over, let us take a quick survey of our opponents, and how they have been faring. First the teams that we have already met.

After riding high and handsome for the first part of the season, California met defeat for the first time last week-end at the hands of U.S.C.'s Trojans. They take on another tough one this week in the form of U.C.L.A. If they can get past this one, they will most likely wind up the season with a 9-1 record.

They are still regarded by many as one of the very best teams in the country. Utah State, on the other hand, is having a miserable season so far. After starting the season as a league favorite for the Skyline Conference, they have succeeded in winning only one game, and that from a weak U. of Montana team, by a 7-0 score. It is doubtful that they will win many of the games remaining on their schedule.

Texas Tech is having just as tough a time. They also won their opener, against a weak Texas State outfit, and have lost all the rest. The remainder of their schedule looks even less promising than Utah State's for winning a game.

San Jose State is well on its way to having its most successful season in history. After losing their opener to powerful Colorado, they have swept the rest of their schedule, including COP. They face a real test this week in the form of the Stanford Indians. If they can get by this one, they are in.

Fresno State has come up with a small powerhouse outfit that will give the Tigers trouble. They cleaned up on the opposition in their class. Marquette, which has developed into an independent powerhouse in the Mid-west, has lost but one game to far this year.

Pacific Coast Football At A Glance

By GENE SOSNICK

Upsets finally came into their own on the coast last weekend as the outcomes of the games made liars out of every football predictor, including yours truly.

CAL HITS THE DUST

Mighty Cal bowed down to Rose Bowl bound USC, in a rugged defensive battle. The Trojan stonewall line held Johnnie O. to a mere 56 yards. They rushed passer Billy Mais all day. Sears was the SC sparkplug as he passed and ran flawlessly. He was responsible for the game's only TD coming on a 69 yard runback of a Tommy Keough punt.

UPSETS GALORE

Masterful Don Heirich passed the Huskies to an overwhelming victory over Chuck Taylor's braves. Stanford never knew what hit them as passes filled the air over the farm and spelled disaster to the cardinal and white for the second consecutive week.

ANOTHER ONE

The UCLA powerhouse with versatile Paul Cameron at the helm disintegrated highly touted Wisconsin in another upset. Injury-ridden Cameron came off the bench to clinch the sixth straight victory for the Bruins.

College of Pacific fought off a strong and experienced Navy eleven for the first half and then succumbed to the pros for three quick third period tallies. The Tiger defense was much improved.

Santa Clara took a thin victory from Idaho in the Boobie Prize Bowl.

TOMORROW'S THRILLERS

Cal takes on the Rose smelling Bruin and All America Candidate Paul Cameron. The scoreboard reading after this one will have much bearing on the running for the Pasadena perennial. Pappy says his Bears will need this one for a possible chance at all for the crown. UCLA's mentor, Red Sanders says Cameron is in good health now and should see unlimited action. Look for a real thriller in Beartown tomorrow.

San Jose State will give their all to prove they are a real power as they bump heads with Stanford tomorrow. The Spartans have been a sound ball club all season winning four and losing only to a good Colorado aggregation. The Spartan offense is way up in national rating with standouts as QB Aplanalp and FB Stults.

DUCKS VS. TIGERS

COP travels to Eugene to face the Oregon Webfoots tomorrow afternoon.

Oregon fought out a tie with Montana last week in a cellar dweller fracas. The Oregonians will be out to avenge last year's pasting they took from the Bengals 34-7. Pacific will be all out to hit the victory trail once again, so stand by your radios tomorrow afternoon for a nice football game.

The Santa Clara Broncos will be in the valley vicinity tomorrow nite meeting Hardin-Simmons in Lodi's Grape Bowl. The Broncos will be looking for their second straight win.

Water Polo Win

The COP Water Tigers scored an impressive 4-2 win over the San Francisco Olympic Club last Saturday to keep alive their hopes of taking the Northern California College Water Polo Championship.

The Water Tigers played one of their best games of the season as they displayed a top team effort in beating the Olympic Club. The Tigers are rapidly shaping up as a close knit organization with plenty of drive and constant Steady offense. The scoring is usually spread around although in this game Jim Baun led the water Tigers with three points.

The largest crowd of the season turned out to see if the Tigers could get by this important game with the Clubbers. The Olympic Club is composed of several former players from Stockton College plus men from Stanford and California. The game was very close being all tied up at 0-0 at the end of the first quarter and also being tied at the half 1-1. The water Tigers forged ahead in the second half leading by 3-1 at the three-quarter mark, and by 4-2 at the game's end.

Biology Students Go For Monterey Trip

The Biology students are off this Saturday for a weekend in Monterey. The buses will leave Saturday morning at six o'clock and travel to San Jose where the students will eat.

They will arrive in Monterey at 11 o'clock at which time they will spend a few hours on the wharf looking at the different fish and eating their lunch. After lunch they will travel to Point Lobos in order to venture out into the water and look for crabs and other salt water animals.

For dinner they will return to the hotel and spend the evening playing cards and relaxing. Sunday morning they will again go to Point Lobos, for a final lecture. On the way home the class will detour to see Pacific Grove and the famous Butterfly Tree. Buses will arrive at the college by six o'clock Sunday evening. Then the ordeal of the trip will begin. Reports will be written to hand in.

WATCH IT!

A lady's wrist watch, evidently lost over the weekend, has been found in the COP men's locker room.

Owner of the watch can recover it upon identification from the Athletic Office secretary.

The cornerstone of the White House in Washington, D.C. was laid Oct. 13, 1792.

Sally Parker Plans Late Nov. Wedding

Mr. Kayser, who graduated from COP last June 1952 with a sociology major, is a student at California Polytechnic studying agriculture.

After the announcement last Sunday night of her plans to wed, Sally was the recipient of a kitchen shower Monday evening and a serenade by COP's collegian quartet.

Morris Chapel is the church selected for the ceremony. The couple plan ultimately to work as agricultural missionaries.

Reverend Myron Herrell, Pastor at the First Methodist Church of Burlingame will be the speaker for Chapel, Tuesday, November 4. His topic is not known as yet.

The Women's Choir under the direction of Arthur Holton will sing and Allen Bacon will play the organ.

Wilcox-Beadleston Tell of Engagement

Several poems that were delivered throughout the week and a final one, read as part of a fake AWS announcement by Bev. Borror, revealed the engagement of Miss Marilyn Wilcox to Mr. Eugene Beadleston.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Wilcox of Gridley, California and a senior at College of Pacific. She is majoring in Music Education and will receive her teaching credential in June of this year. Miss Wilcox is President of Tau Kappa Kappa sorority as well as secretary of Mu Phi Epsilon, Honorary Music Sorority, and a member of Knolens, Senior Women's Honorary.

Eugene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Willows, California, is attending Stockton College and majoring in Engineering and drafting. Mr. Beadleston is a member of Rho Lambda Phi and past president of the Drafting Fraternity. He will enter the army the first of November.

The couple is planning an Easter wedding.

Weekly Finds Strange Note Posted By Supernatural Being

It is a quiet, stealthy night when suddenly out bursts All the scary things that arrive on October thirty-firsts.

Goblins and ghosts a-rattling their chains, Witches on broomsticks all raising Cain...

What could all these goings-on mean? Do we have to tell you, HALLOWEEN!!!

Pardon the very amateur verse, but I want you all to know I'm here. Allow me to introduce myself: I'm Hooey Hauntful and I am Pacific's Halloween representative sent out by the National Association of Haunts, Hoodlums, and Has-beens.

Our organization has been in existence since Halloween was born. Did you know that Halloween means hallowed or holy evening so-called because it is the vigil or eve of all Saints Day?

It was in the 7th century that it came into being, occurring at the time of the ancient autumn festival of the Druids, which they celebrated with merriment and feasting. It marked the waning power of the sun and beginning of winter, and also the opening up of the winter stores. (This is when My Ancestors were born.) The people associated ghosts, goblins, witches, etc. with the night. Since ghosts appealed so to the imagination, we formed our union which is still active today.

On with our history — In the 8th century, with the increasing spread of Christianity, November 1 was set aside as a day for honoring all the saints. One of the traditional customs was the building of great bonfires to keep away evil spirits released by the God of Evil on that night. All the people would gather around and relate their experiences with queer noises, strange flutterings, shadows and mysteries. This was the forerunner to the spook story of today.

Because of its long history of merriment and tradition Halloween is a holiday marked by many parties and pranks. Our national organization of spooks is mighty glad you earthly ones have such a good time, but we also like to have you keep in mind our very glorious history. Also if you have any complaints about our Halloween ghosting service please do not hesitate to contact me, Hooey Hauntful, Grave 58, National Headquarters, Boot Hill, USA.

Long-Johns

Well, the weather is becoming colder and in order to keep from freezing to death you have to wear something that is warmer.

A warm shirt and a jacket will do in the daytime, but at night when you go to bed you must have a pair of Long-John pajamas. The Long-John industry is now making a fabric that is completely itchless and out of this world. The new creation will revolutionize the Long-John industry. It is called Lennalf, which spelled backwards is Flannel.

This new material washes and dries in 1/3 of a second which is unbelievable, and I believe it will stay that way. A Long-John creation is a must in your wardrobe and when you wear one you will look very cosmic, and you'll have a celestial body.

There are many different colors to choose from, but the two best are Lunar Blue and Ecliptic Orange. There are also many different styles to choose from, but there are also two which are the best of them all.

The first style is the long sleeve that is made of pure Lennalf, with long legs and 16 inch bottoms. The special feature of this one style is the two flaps, one for the rear and the other for the front. This is known as the two outlet creation, and you may either have them with zippers or with buttons.

The one with the buttons is not too practical because there are 48 buttons now instead of 13, and you would later have to sew on two more if Hawaii and Alaska become states. Also this is not practical because by the time you unbuttoned 48 buttons it would be too late.

So buy the one with the zipper. The other style is the short sleeve made of the same fabric. This style is made for the people who are warm blooded, because of the short sleeves. This style is also easier to put on because of a long zipper down the side which means you can adjust them easily.

So if you buy a pair of these we guarantee you'll never freeze. Betty, the waitress, is sporting them this winter.

Jose Attends On Panamanian Scholarships

By SHIRLEY DYKE

Jose Guillermo Gonzalez Riviera de la Guardia Choy Revilla, better known to us at Pacific as Jose Gonzalez, is our foreign feature student of the week.

Jose is a senior at Pacific and is a business administration major. Claiming the Republic of Panama as his home, Jose is attending school on a COP scholastic scholarship.

Jose attended Pan-American High School — the institution through which he received his scholarship. A high school education in Panama covers a 5 year period. This 5 years of education is definitely much harder than the high schooling that we have; the schools in Panama are more academically inclined than in the United States.

The main social occasion in Panama is their carnival which is held four days prior to Lent. The carnival is comparable to our Mardi Gras in New Orleans, and has parades and queens, etc.

Panama has only two seasons in contrast to the four that we have. The chief products of the republic are bananas, coconuts, leather, and leather products. The population of Panama is roughly 800 thousand.

American music is very popular in Panama, along with the native rhumba's, tangos, and sambas. Jose plans to return to Panama when his education has been completed.

A Few Wise Words To Sorority Rushees

Editorial from Oregon Daily Emerald

"Women's rush period will soon begin.

Several women students are wondering whether to rush now or to wait for the spring rush season. National Panhellenic has always recommended that women's rushing be as near as possible to the beginning of school. They believe that girls who are rushing can not settle down and relax. Always on their minds will be the impending rushing.

As to women being satisfied with their choice of houses, Panhellenic says there is no appreciable difference between rushing immediately and waiting for a term or more. One disadvantage of deferred rushing for the Greek system as a whole is that of unequal distribution of pledges.

This leads some rushees to forget that they live with people, and not with titles or honors. They tend to underrate smaller

Muldrowney Stockton

Editorial

As the campus, woman's part, moves into its first week of rushing silence period the same old questions and statements are being kicked around by the affiliated and non-affiliated girls.

To many non-affiliates it seems an entirely snobbish attitude on the part of the sororities to show off the supposed vast distinction between them. To some others it is a puzzling and sometimes hurtful affair to be passed on campus with just a smile and silence. To all affiliated and non-affiliated girls this temporary estrangement is an awkward one. It's hard to stifle one's natural friendly impulses.

"Then why have it?" someone will inadvertently ask. "It's so silly; why continue it?" The Pan-Hellenic sororities review this question every year, and every year they vote in silence period again. It seems to be the only way of insuring a "fair" rushing season. There are those of the rushees who have already made up their minds as to which house they want to join. But there are others who want to compare the houses during the rushing period and are going into rushing with an open mind.

It is so members of sororities may not sway rushees unfairly and actively work to the disadvantage of the other houses that silence period is held.

We agree that it seems unnatural to place unaffiliated girls who will not rush on the silence list, but experience has taught that "dirty rushing" can be carried on through non-rushees.

Silence period tends more and more toward friendliness and relaxing of strict stoney silence. Affiliates and non-affiliates may say hello to each other, but no more.

So silence will last for two weeks. And until someone will suggest a new procedure that pan-hell can mutually agree on, it will be with us four weeks out of every school year.

Dear Sir:

I was just wondering if everybody in California has forgotten about us over here in Korea?

I am just a lonely airman with our Far East Air Force somewhere in Korea. So I am writing this plea for mail to you. And I am hoping and praying that you will print this plea for mail in your newspaper. For I have had no mail in six months, as I have no one to write to.

I was just thinking that if you print this plea for mail, maybe some young lady might care to write me. I was just this month 23 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weight about 180, blue gray eyes, dark brown hair. I went to Notre Dame, and I like all sports.

My address is:

A/2C Fred Massey

San Francisco, Calif.

Thanks a lot,
Fred Massey

Dear Sue:

I read in your paper last week all about what was wrong with Homecoming. But* there were some good points, too. Or maybe you overlooked them.

I think that the Homecoming barbeque was one of the best, and best-planned, events that the school has ever had. Nearly everybody participated. The food was good and plentiful, and it was good to see the faculty in an informal and more human light. I hope that this can become an annual affair.

That's all I wanted to say. I just wanted to put something on the positive side.

Very sincerely,

Dear Editor:

How come you're not printing anything about the engineering department in this paper? Whether you know it or not, the engineering department is one of the most important on this campus, and would appreciate getting a little of the publicity that the art and music department are getting.

I can think of three people who threw your paper away without reading it last week because it didn't have any engineering stories in it.
